LEADERSHIP LUNCHEON BRINGS UM STUDENTS, ALUMNI TOGETHER

MISSOULA—

University of Montana students can get a free lunch and learn about women's leadership at the next Ask-an-Alum event on campus Wednesday, March 7.

The Women's Leadership luncheon will be held from noon to 1 p.m. in University Center Rooms 330-331. Lunches will be provided free for the first 25 students.

Speakers for the event are Helena lawyer Alice Henshaw of Jackson, Murdo and Grant; Angela Kenyon, owner of Miss Zula's jewelry store; and Ellie Hill, director of Missoula's Poverello Center and owner of Ellie Blue's Timeless Gifts.

Ask-an-Alum events are held throughout the academic year to bring guest panelists to campus to tell their career and leadership stories. Speakers are UM alumni who also share with students University experiences that prepared them to lead successful professional lives after graduation.

The luncheons are designed to encourage students to gain skills from employment, internships and extracurricular and volunteer activities on campus and in the community while attending UM.

The events are sponsored by UM's Center for Leadership Development, Office of
